

Extra credit assignment for Freshman students.

Record the time you spend doing homework every day for each class. BE HONEST! Do not include time spent on the phone or computer that is not related to your assignments. For example, if you call a friend to ask about a math problem and then start talking about what someone said that someone else said about you, you are not doing homework and it doesn't count.

Create a graph or chart that represents your homework time. Follow the rubric that will be used to grade it. Rubric is available on line or hard copies next week.
