

Review: The Sentence and Its Parts

Find subjects and verbs. Underline the subject once and the verb twice in the following sentences.

1. The reporter interviewed the Governor for fifteen minutes.
2. Has he invented an electric sock for cold weather?
3. I do not believe that story.
4. The game went too quickly.
5. Will you shut the door?
6. How pretty that dress is!
7. Bill and Sam are giving their reports today.
8. Are you a doctor?
9. There were fewer students in her class this year.
10. Beyond the trees lies the treasure.
11. Betsy can fix and clean these roller skates.
12. The chains on the swing had become rusty.
13. Gail and Andrea saw that movie last week.
14. Will you wash the dishes tonight?
15. We should speak to the principal about it.

Identify the kinds of sentences. Label each of the following sentences Declarative, Interrogative, Imperative, or Exclamatory. Add the correct punctuation mark.

1. Hand me the pliers _____
2. May I use the pliers _____
3. The President ordered a blockade of the coast _____
4. Annie Oakley was a sharpshooter _____
5. What a pest he is _____
6. Is there anything in the mailbox _____
7. Astronaut Neil Armstrong was the first man on the moon _____
8. What is the number of your locker _____
9. What a kick Rafael Septien has _____
10. How good that pizza tasted _____
11. How do you feel about the suggestion _____
12. Alligators will eat metal, rock, and glass _____
13. Will Brenda bring her albums _____
14. Use a paper clip _____
15. Bring a tape recorder to the rehearsal _____

Sentence Expanding with When, Where, and How

Read the core sentence. Expand it to include information about when, where, or how it happened.

Example: Chad worked on his research project.
 tirelessly (how)
 at the library (where) everyday after school (when)
Chad worked tirelessly on his research project at the library everyday after school.

1. Mario found the path.

2. The rain poured.

3. We descended the mountain trail.

4. Beth concocted an original dessert.

5. Evelyn planned her spring garden.

6. Senator Blair continued campaigning.
