

Attention Parents

We need your assistance

Please take time to read and consider the opportunity.

Have you ever worked hard on a puzzle and realized you were missing the last piece, or two? Did the puzzle look okay? Would you have been proud to show it off?

No! You probably got upset or started looking every where for the missing pieces. We all know that feeling of being close to a goal but having something slowing us down.

Well, we are showing progress at CJH, but I am still in search of the missing piece or two to truly maximize the ability and success of our students.

I exert great effort to teach your students. Your students will be working hard in my class. Those puzzle pieces are not lost. But, I am in search of a vital piece that is missing...the parent piece. Your students and I would greatly benefit from your involvement with our classroom. I need the parent volunteer piece in order to complete my classroom teaching/learning puzzle and offer the best learning environment for the students.

Why help out?

Helping your student's classroom is a great contribution. Here is a list of the benefits of volunteering:

5. spend time with great kids
6. be a positive part of the progress at CJH
7. see your student in a different light
8. show your student you care about learning
