

CORRECT SENTENCES

- he a. He was close to setting a new Olympic record when he nearly fainted and lost his advantage.
- it b. The short story "The Birds"⁶ is a terrifying tale; it is about a life-threatening change in the natural world.

club a. Yes, Teresa has sung in the Monroe High School Jazz Club for three years, I think.

tion b. "Please note, José, that you used too many x's in the caption,"⁷ Mr. Monroe said, "and the type needs to be smaller."⁷

- the a. The friendly dog, a Labrador,⁶ was everyone's favorite at the Greenwich Animal Shelter on Mercer Street.
- b. The Metroliner was a fast train² that ran between Philadelphia and New York according to an article in the Washington Post.

408 First Avenue
Trenton, NJ 08620

May 21, 2004

Clemens, Benjamin,⁵ and Brantley Law Offices
204 State Street
Albany, NY 12205

a. (My Sister or She)¹ has written several celebrity profiles for the Ledger, which is a weekly newspaper.

in b. To leave school on time, we had to do the following: turn off our computers, lock the doors,⁵ and get our coats.